

News Release

14 November 2009

Ogier claims another accolade at British Legal Awards

For the second year in succession Ogier has been named 'Offshore Law Firm of the Year' at the British Legal Awards.

This award is one of the most coveted amongst offshore law firms and is recognition of the prominence the firm has in the offshore world.

The event, hosted by Legal Week, is a highlight in the legal calendar and was attended by over 800 industry professionals.

A number of factors were taken into consideration in selecting Ogier as the top offshore law firm again. These include: legal expertise and innovation, strategic vision, new business, client care, employee development and a commitment to corporate social responsibility.

William Simpson, Managing Partner of Ogier, commented: "We have invested a lot of time and effort building first rate legal practices across our jurisdictions and have well-established teams in place in each jurisdiction. I am very pleased to see the success of the firm being recognised so widely. It is a great end to the year for us to pick up the British Legal Awards offshore title for the second year running."

Ogier has also earned a top tier ranking for its investment funds and commercial and banking work in Guernsey this year from the IFLR and Legal 500 legal directories.

Release Ends